DJTECH.NET Develops industry first fault tolerant communications method, e-Pencil

“The Best New Communication Product of 2000!” – e-World 2000

e-World - NJ December 3,2000 : DJTECH.NET, a division of 6for6 Group Inc, today announced its new e-Pencil. With an estimated street price of $199, the e-Pencil is bound to be an instant hit with retro collectors. Not since the invention of computers and email has communications been easier. E-Pencil is so efficient it will work for up to 12+ hours without requiring electricity. Its handy rubber eraser, conveniently placed on tip, is priceless for clearing away unwanted letters and text, without the hassle of locating a delete key. E-Pencil offers scaleable support for 8½ by 11, A4, even 8 ½ by 14 paper! E-Pencil properly reflects the users personality, unlike traditional email text, e-Pencil letters vary based upon the user offering a unique style of communication not available with modern email systems. So go ahead be a rebel, be creative, get your e-Pencil today
